George Noonan, a former Addisor resident, was drowned Sunday at hi home near St. Louis.

The H. P. Hood Co. of Boston has 624 F Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. bought the South Royalton creamery of Mr. Lucia of that place.

Ernest H. Gibson, who died at the home of his parents in Manchester, Oct. 19, at the aged of 23, left a bride of a few weeks.

The death of Mrs. Julia Fields, who died Wednesday at the home of her Real Estate and son-in-law, A. T. Hendricks, at the age of 86 years, was hastened by the sudden death of her daughter, Mrs. Hendricks, two weeks ago.

A man, who jumped from the bushes in the dark, attempted to hold up the team of Mrs. Robert Greenwood as she was driving from Townshend to her home and soon after the team of Perley Albee, who was driving to Townshend. Mrs. Greenwood whipped up her horse and escaped and Mr. Albee struck at Saturday Afternoon, Oct. 28 the man with a sled stake, hitting him, and then hurried on.

Mrs. Julia Merrill died Oct. 19 at the home in Milford, N. H., into which she and her husband had just finished moving. Mr. Merrill had been traveling three ably divided; the tillage land is perfectly miles to and from work each day and level and is all machine mowing; cuts 15 they had changed their residence to make to 20 tons hay; good fruit orchard and the winter more comfortable for both.

Quantity of smal fruits, berries, etc..;
the barn is comfortable and is 36x40 ft.; Before the last truckload of furniture had arrived, Mrs. Merrill, who was 39 very years old and a native of Middlebury, died of cancer.
